VALUABLE PLANTATION FOR SALE!

ON THE SECOND THURSDAY IN DECEMBER, that being the 13th day of the month, I will sell to the highest bidder, upon the premises, that desirable lately owned, and resided upon, by Miss Elizabeth Hinton, dec'd.

COTTON PLANTATION,

The tract is situated on Neuse River, six miles East of Raleigh, on the Tarboro' Road, adjoining the lands of David Hinton. It contains ELEVEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-FIVE ACRES. of land,—from THREE TO FOUR HUNDRED of which are cleared. About 100 acres are fine low grounds, not liable to over-flow. This is considered one of the best Cotton Plantations in the County, and the bottom land will always produce enough Corn to sustain it.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

consist of a handsome Dwelling House, containing seven rooms, located on a commanding site. There are three frame houses also on the premises, with two rooms each, and all necessary out-houses, cabins, barns, gin house, carriage house, &c.

As this land will be sold on the liberal credit of only one-third cash, the balance payable in one, two and three years, a rare opportunity is afforded to parties wishing to purchase a first-class farm.

Personal security will be required, and title will be with-held until the last payment is made.

NOTE.—This Land will be divided into three tracts, the House-tract 600 acres, another tract of 350 acres, and another of 245, plots of which may be seen at my office above Creech's Store.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

I have tried Mr. Wm. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them very good. L. M. TUCKER.

THE SENTINEL.

Wednesday Evening, Dec. 12, 1866.

Internal Improvements.

The House of Commons seems to have imbibed the spirit of improvement, which we are glad to see, is working its way into every department of society in this State. Every one almost, seems to feel, that while the settlement of our national difficulties is a matter of great moment, that the recuperation and prosperity of the State must depend upon the individual and associational efforts of our own people, and those who come among us. To give stimulus to the spirit of enterprise and to check the growing spirit of emigration from the State, our Railroad system must be completed. The House in this spirit of enterprise, has passed bills extending the Fayetteville Coal Fields Road, also one necessary for the completion of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Road, and one to extend the Western Extension Railroad, and others. If the Senate shall promptly follow up this spirit, the friends of improvement have hope that the Old North State will again look up.

A gentleman in the Legislature received a dispatch on yesterday, from R. C. McCalla, Esq., of Morristown, Tenn., stating that the Tennessee Legislature had passed "a bill granting half a million of dollars to our Road. Ho! for Asheville." Meaning the Road from Morristown to the N. C. line. This is good news.

Gen. Sickles' Order.

The intelligent correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette of the 10th says, that "the government has not authorized Gen. Sickles to forbid corporal punishment in North Carolina."

This is what we expect the government to say, when it does speak; but we regret to say, that up to this time, nothing has been heard by the Executive of this State from the common government upon so important a subject. The delay is exceedingly perplexing. If the civil law of the State can be arrested at any moment by the military commandants, whose powers are now understood to be confined to the duties of the Freedman's Bureau, by orders emanating from Gen. Howard at Washington, what is civil law or the President's proclamations worth?—What is the claim that the States are States and that the civil law has been restored, worth?—When such orders are issued to the military commandants, it is strange that duplicates are not issued to the Governors of the States at the same time. Such an arrangement would tend to an early understanding between the civil and military.

The Penitentiary.

Mr. Hutchison from the joint select committee on the Penitentiary, made an able report on yesterday in favor of the establishment of a Penitentiary in this State. We have no disposition to dictate to Legislators, but we must say, that all our reflections upon this subject, tend to confirm us in the opinion, that the reason and necessity of the thing, demand a Penitentiary in North Carolina. Some of our contemporaries object for various reasons, but with all due deference, we must say, that the reasons suggested, do not strike us as forcible. The expense can be vastly lessened by employing the convicts in the construction. At all events, the expense would not be one third what it will now take to build the work-houses, provided for by law in the several counties. It may be prudent however to submit the matter to the people, and we feel quite sure if it is properly discussed before them, they will sanction it.

Mr. Devereux's Letter.

The papers are so barren of interesting news, we embrace the present issue to lay before our readers the interesting letter of T. P. Devereux, Esq., on the negro, addressed to Gov. Worth and alluded to in his recent message. The source whence the letter emanates and the importance of the subject, entitle it to perusal. Mr. D. has not convinced us of the undoubted correctness of all his views, yet his large experience and sound head and heart, make us hesitate to condemn any of his positions.

TUCKER HALL.—The iron front of this splendid building is going up. The size and character of the building, will prevent its completion earlier than the spring. It will be an ornament and a convenience to the city.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING OF N. C. R.—The Stockholders of the N. C. R. R. met in this city to-day. We have not heard the result of its deliberations. We have since heard that the absence of the State's proxy prevented any business, and the meeting adjourned.

SUPERIOR COURT.—Judge Barnes has been holding the special term of the Superior Court of Wake, during the present week. Several important cases we presume will be considered.

TRUSTEES' MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University, was held in this city on Monday and Tuesday.—Much business was done, but nothing of public interest has transpired.

THE FREEDMEN OF GEORGIA.—It is safe to estimate that from 8,000 to 10,000 negroes will die in Georgia, in the coming winter from exposure and starvation. The white people cannot support them. They are so impoverished that many who were rich before the war, will absolutely suffer for the necessities of life. Here is a broad field for practical philanthropy—pocket philanthropy.

Our Northern brethoren have a terrible sympathy with all the oppressed people of the world except those that they oppress themselves.—They sympathize tremendously with Ireland and Mexico—and until lately they need to sympathise with Poland. Ye hypocrites! "The Greeks are at your doors!" You have made an Ireland—think of it—of Virginia!—Charlottesville Chronicle.

Letter from Thomas P. Devereux, Esq., to Gov. Worth.

HALIFAX COUNTY, Oct. 20, 1866.

My Dear Sir:—Being one amongst the oldest slaveholders in the South, and having for many years made the negro my study, both as one of the means of income, and because I felt a more than ordinary interest in him; realizing that my days are numbered, and that it is a duty to aid in establishing a system which should advance the material and moral well being of the race, and thereby promote the prosperity of the country, I take the liberty of addressing the following pages to you. I do not write you as the Governor of the State, but as Jonathan Worth, Esq., who, I believe, will rightly appreciate my motives and give them that weight to which they are entitled. You have my permission to do with the letter as you think best; for, while I seek no credit for my suggestions, I shun no responsibility from the avowal of my sentiments; and although I may say some things which may mortify Southern pride, yet truth should prevail, and I can say to my countrymen with the Apostle: "Am I become your enemy because I tell you the truth?"

I do not believe the negro is fated to disappear in a state of freedom; if he does, it will be the fault of those who govern him, i. e. his law-makers. Unlike the aborigines of this country, he is endued with an ability to resist the vices of civilization which has been denied to the Indian. The negro is a necessity to the prosperity of the Southern States; he is on the spot, ready to continue the discharge of his duties, while it will take millions of money and years of privation to obtain another race, as equal to their performance as the negro. It is thus of high interest to preserve such an element of prosperity. For many years I have differed with those who argued that slavery was the best possible arrangement of society. I have long been convinced that it was the most expensive form of labor which the ingenuity of man could devise,—admirably adapted to promote the material well-being of the negro, and the increase of his numbers, but injurious to the development of the resources of the country, and to the accumulation of national wealth. So strong are my convictions on this subject, that I would have taken steps to prove the correctness of my principles, had it not been, for the pleas, that, under our Constitution, the negro, in a state of freedom, could not be made to do fair work for fair wages, and slavery was infinitely better than pauperism. Unpopular as were these sentiments, they steadily gained strength, and recent events have made them almost universal. Whilst I cannot but consider the act of emancipation, as it was executed, as unjust, unconstitutional and unwise, I am persuaded that, had it been more prudently ordered, had it provided a very moderate compensation, one hardly equal to the annual expense already incurred, but sufficient to mitigate cases of crying hardship and injustice, and had it been unaccompanied by the "Freedman's Bureau," (a terrible blunder,) before this time the feelings of bitterness which it at first must have created, would have all passed away.—With these observations, I proceed to mention some instances of mistaken legislation, which should be repealed, and others omitted, which should be supplied.

To one who knows him, the negro is but an over-grown child, and, like all other children, is extremely sensitive to injustice. To make the legislation intended for him available for good, he must feel that the law-makers are not only his superiors, but his friends. He should be taught to love, but made to respect them. It is worse than Utopian to expect ever to establish by legislation social equality; but a full equality before the law should be strenuously insisted on; anything beyond it may be beautiful in theory, but is impossible in practice. The first necessity in the endeavor to promote the well-being of the negro, and, through him, of the country, is, it appears to me, to enforce a proper supply of food to the rising generation; if this is not done the physical ability of the future producers will be sapped in infancy. Under the system of slavery, public opinion, the instinct of self-interest, and the law of the land, forced the owners to provide food for all his slaves. In the case of a child, the ordinary provision was a pound of bread and a quarter of a pound of pork, or its equivalent in beef or molasses, a day. Under the present system, I find that the most prudent of my hirelings, in arranging for themselves and their families, have reduced this provision about one-half, and in other cases, almost to the point of starvation, especially as regards meat. The cause is to be found in the negro's disposition, which seems to run into the extreme of recklessness as to the future, or to a love of hoarding, which sometimes leads to such deep, concealment of his hoard, that he has been known to die without disclosing it. The remedy is plain, viz: to provide that every child who does not receive an allowance of food to be fixed by law, shall be bound out by the County Courts. I will not say, that the negro is deficient in parental affection, for I do not believe it, but the feeling is controlled by the characteristics above mentioned. He looks upon the services of his children as a source of future revenue, and rather than be deprived of them, he will provide suitable and sufficient food.

A very low degree of moral sense requires that the system of paying the wages of the negro in what are called "orders for trade," should be forbidden; it will be seen, at once, that these orders are a means of reducing the wages of the negro below their value, and may force him to take in payment what may be convenient to his employer or the shopkeeper, but which is useful neither to himself or his family, nay, positively injurious. This system of necessity generates pauperism—the great evil we have to fear in the future. A provision, by law, that wages should be paid either in a portion of the crop, or in money, or farm produce, will correct this. For myself, I think wages paid in a portion of the crop is most beneficial to both parties, and tend to make the negro more provident. But justice to the employer requires some stringent enactment, by which a negro working in this manner shall be forced to perform his contract. An intimation is all that is necessary on this head. Pauperism, intemperance and bastardy are said to be the great difficulties in legislation—the two last certainly increase the first, and that is the rock upon which all thoughtful men fear we shall be wrecked. It is much to be regretted, that the recent legislation, on the subject, did not render it imperative on the County Courts, under limitations suggested by population, to organize two poor houses—one exclusively for each race—and to make them a charge upon those races, respectively. The advantages are many,—the negro will feel he is not made to support the poor whites, and that it is fairer, and it will make every prudent negro in the county a police officer, vigilant to prevent those practices which tend to increase his poor tax. And, if, as it seems intended, the poor houses are to have farms attached to them, the division is manifestly to the advantage of the negro. An act, making it obligatory upon parents to support their children, and children to support their parents, rather than leave them to public charity, will be extremely beneficial.

It is to be hoped, that rendering payment of wages by "orders for trade" illegal, will reduce intemperance. But there is another source of supply for liquors, which requires vigilant supervision, viz: that of the employer selling it to his laborers, or making it a portion of their allowance. Unwearied pains had to be taken to prevent slaves from procuring liquor, as our statute books abundantly attest. Merchants were forbidden to give it, because it was feared that they would use it as a means of electioneering for custom. I have heard with pain, that some employers have kept upon their plantations almost an open bar, where negroes obtained, upon some terms or other an unbounded command of liquor. This evil calls for careful legislation. It is worthy of note, that, amongst my slaves, there was a large intermixture of Indian blood from the Pequots, brought from Massachusetts and sold in North Carolina, in the early part of the 18th century, and, up to the act of emancipation, I could, with tolerable certainty, detect the mixed race by their addiction to liquor and its effects upon them. It is sufficient to call attention to this evil. Its remedy is recorded in the whole of our former legislation.

The strongest motive of action is the love of accumulation; it is one all powerful to civilize. The negro is not insensible to it, but from the circumstances by which he is at present surrounded, it is difficult for him to cultivate it.—He will not save paper money, because, as he says "it will die on his hands." There is no coin in circulation, and if there was, he would unprofitably hoard it. Banks have departed. He will not trust the merchants, for he feels that their occupation is to make money out of him. His employer, if worthy of trust, will probably decline it, and there is nothing left for him but to spend needlessly, and perhaps injuriously. I have thought that it might advantageously be made the duty of County Treasurers to receive the negro's savings, at a rate of interest low enough to pay the additional expenses incurred thereby, with a provision to invest them solely in State and County securities. Perhaps Savings Banks might be founded on real property, exclusively for the benefit of the negro, and if necessary, Congress might remit the taxation levied upon them.

Our statutary regulations as to apprentices are most admirable, but they are shamefully evaded. I am within bounds when I say that thousands of negro children, clearly subject to the apprentice laws, are kept by their relatives or pretended friends in a state worse than bondage—they are the "servants of servants," and are deprived of that nurture and instruction which a beneficent law has provided for them. Considering the greater longevity of the negro, the later period at which his mind reaches maturity, it would be beneficial to him to postpone his majority to the ages of 25 and 21. I am not sure that this can be done; but if done should be confined to farm apprentices, and accompanied with a provision for wages to be accumulated for their benefit. And under existing circumstances, in the present state of our labor market, the services of prime laborers between the ages of 14 and 21, are not fairly recompensed by the education prescribed by law, and by paying him, at his majority, "six dollars in money," and "giving him a new Bible and a new suit of clothes." The rate of wages should be regulated by the age, when the apprentiship commenced; and if anything is done to alter the law in this respect, the Court of Wardens is a more convenient tribunal than the County Court, and it will certainly be better to give that Court the jurisdiction of bastardy cases. Whatever is done, the thousands of negro children now living in idleness should be cared for, and the due execution of the existing law will be a great benefit, if nothing more be attempted. The penalty for harboring minors subject to the apprentice law, should be increased, and it should be made the duty of all Justices of the Peace to report such children to the proper tribunals, and tax payers in making out their lists, should be required to give the names of all unapprenticed minors living upon their land. This enactment may become very important in another point of view—for it is to be feared that the entire absence of Saxon or Norman blood in the negro, will be shown by his regarding every person giving that information, without which no system of laws can be executed, as a spy and an informer, upon whom private revenge is to be wreaked. It will tend to discipline him to realize its necessity. I think I have seen symptoms of this disposition growing in the negro, and I am certain it is apprehended.

The negro, in his present abnormal state, has a very natural desire for education. Whatever others may claim for him, he admits the superiority of the white, and attributes it mainly to his superior information. I was opposed to those laws forbidding the teaching negroes to read and write; they are now abrogated. Is it not politic that provision should be made by law, for schools for blacks to be supported by a tax on the black population? I believe that the negro does not wish any intermixture of whites; on the contrary prefers separate schools. Is it not better to educate them by teachers approved after examination, rather than permit their instruction to pass into the hands of the ignorant and unprincipled?

Religion is a subject I approach with timidity. It seems under our institutions impossible to devise a plan by which the intelligent shall become the guides of the ignorant. Under the practice now prevailing, the black convert today, becomes the leader at the next religious meeting, and has to trust to his memory for the contents of that Book he attempts to expound. This was forbidden before the emancipation.—That act although it altered the legal and civil status of the negro, did not affect him intellectually. Is not the evil now as great? And would it be deemed a restraint upon religious liberty, to require that no one should teach in a meeting for worship, unlicensed by some of the prevailing religious denominations? We restrain lawyers and physicians from practicing without some evidence of their fitness for the office. Would it be wrong to exercise some supervision as to those who claim to minister in spiritual things?

Political economists maintain, that no agricultural population can ever produce a surplus, unless the females aid in the harvest. In other words, that the males of a country can produce more than they can gather, unless aided in the gathering, a portion of the crop must perish in the field; this is especially the case with Southern products. One evidence that the negro will not, without a struggle, become a barbarian, is the fact, that to him female influence is all powerful. This influence has at once, and almost magically, caused the disappearance of all married women from the fields. I have seen a bevy of women meet for no purpose but gossip, when a cotton field, white to the harvest, was within ten yards of them, in which, by very moderate labor, each could have made from fifty cents to one dollar per day, yet resolutely refusing to labor, "because they were free!"—"they had husbands and children to work for them!" Thousands have been lost, not only to our State, but to the world, from this cause alone. Extreme suffering will, in time, perhaps, rectify this evil. But a great good will be effected, if legislation can avert so desperate a remedy.

Continuous labor is necessary to agricultural products. This labor the negro is anxious to avoid. He fancies he is not lazy when he is willing, for high wages, to do any casual job which may offer; but he has a great aversion to make a contract by the month, and in many instances, positively refuses one for the year.—Time and suffering will also cure this evil. But a heavy tax upon all mere laborers, who are not hired by the month, at least, will hasten the reformation.

The negro has a childish love of fire arms; the indulgence of this passion provokes the ill-will of the whites, and to see a negro parading the country with a revolver in his belt, has a tendency to produce bloodshed. The remedy is a heavy tax upon all arms not used in militia drill. Some tribunal might be allowed to license guns for the protection of crops from vermin, at a reduced taxation; but a revolver, as an article of dress, is more than useless to a negro. I learn that the negroes, especially those hanging about the towns unengaged in regular farm labor, are exhibiting an intense love for gambling, which threatens to rival that of the Malay. I know nothing of this, but hear enough to induce enquiry, and should the fact be ascertained, the remedy is with the Legislature.

The road laws, as existing, and as they will certainly be administered, are unfair and unwise. Both white and black males, within certain ages, are to keep the highways in order by working them on certain days. The negro will do a larger share of this labor than the white, and if the whole male population do their full duty, the amount of labor will be too large to be properly managed. It will be more economical and fairer to levy a poll tax upon all those subject to road duty, and to keep the roads in order through contractors.

In conclusion, my dear sir, permit me to say, that we have a hard task before us. Still, I do not despair of the Republic. Barbadoes, Jamaica and St. Domingo are the countries which have preceded ours, as offerings on the altar of philanthrophy. The dense population of the first has so fenced in the negro that he must either work or starve; the mild climate and spontaneous production of the other, the ease with which life is supported, and the almost entire absence of a necessity for shelter and clothing, joined to the paucity of the population, have made them victims on that altar, and has reduced them nearly to barbarism. Fortunately for us, our climate, requiring continuous labor for the production of good shelter and clothing, places us in the position of Barbadoes.

It becomes our duty to avail ourselves of those advantages. At present we are crippled by a legislation which, though intended to be fair and philanthropic, fails of its end, by an ignorance of the negro character. Were we at liberty, and had we the power to enact penal laws against every negro, who did not either follow some mechanical trade, cultivate land of his own, or contract with others, white or black, for farm work, to be paid in wages, or in a portion of the crop, and could we enforce the strict fulfilment of those contracts, we would be, as producers, as successful as we have ever been; although even then, from the peculiarity of the negro character, we should have many difficulties to encounter. Those peculiarities may be shortly stated thus: his love of ease, his disregard of that elevation which is generated by property, and his recklessness of the future.

Most Respectfully, Yours,

T. P. DEVEREUX.

THIS School will open the Second Monday in January, in the large and commodious buildings formerly occupied by Dr. Deems.

The Principal has associated with him Professor AVERETT and LADY, of Halifax County, Virginia. Professor AVERETT is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He is a teacher of many years experience—was Professor of Mathematics in the Danville Female College until he resigned his position to take his place in the Confederate army. In a word, the Principal has resolved to make this School all that it professes to be, viz: a High School of the first grade. In order to this, he has employed only such teachers as are known to be accomplished scholars, and who have established a reputation as successful instructors.

The number of pupils will not hereafter be limited; and additional teachers will be employed so soon as the patronage will justify it.

The Music Department will be committed to Mrs. AVERETT, who will be assisted by Mrs. ARRINGTON.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Our Wednesday Morning Dispatches.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.

In the Senate the debate was continued but not ended on the suffrage bill.

In the House, Mr. Stevens made a speech on the bill to repeal the statute of limitations with regard to treason and capital offences. He opposed the bill, contending that the crime of treason was one which most required to be quieted by time. The offence was continuous till a peace proclamation was issued; none such had been issued. He understood that the man at the other end of the avenue had issued some pieces of paper of peace. Those who rebelled against the government should be punished as captives. No action was had on the bill.

The remainder of the day was consumed in consideration of the bill to regulate appointments and removals from office.

The President sent to the House papers relative to ex-Confederate General Pickett's application for pardon. It appears that Advocate General Holt recommended that Pickett be put on trial, on the charge of having murdered twenty-two Union prisoners of war. But the Secretary of War declined to do so, on the ground of the Supreme Court having decided against military tribunals trying such cases. Pickett addressed a letter to the President asking for amnesty, and one to Gen. Grant asking his favorable consideration, and explaining the circumstances under which the men were executed. He simply acting as the General Commanding the Department, and the same was sanctioned by the Confederate Government.

Gen. Grant made an endorsement on the letter to the President, with recommendation of clemency, or that assurances will be given that no trial will take place for offences charged against Pickett. He says, that during the rebellion, beligerent rights were acknowledged to the enemies of our country. And it is clear to me the parole given by the armies laying down their arms, protect them against punishment for acts lawful for any other beligerents. The punishment of the men was a harsh one, but it was in time of war, when the enemy, no doubt, felt it necessary to retain, by some power, the services of every man within their ranks. Gen. Pickett I know, personally, to be an honorable man. But in this case his judgment prompted him to do what cannot well be sustained.—Though I do not see how good either to the friends of the deceased, or by fixing an example for the future, can be secured by his trial now. It would only open up the question whether or not the Government did not disregard its contract entered into to secure the surrender of an armed enemy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.

The recent decree by the Juarez government declaring forfeited, the grant to the Louisiana company, by Maximilian, for a Railroad across Tahauntepec, and granting a like franchise to the Transit company attracts much attention, and especially, from the fact that Caleb Cushing has given an opinion in favor of the latter, regarding the action of President Juarez as final and conclusive.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.

SENATE.—Mr. Wilson gave notice that to-morrow he would introduce a bill to continue in force the Freedmen's Bureau and to amend the act establishing it.

Mr. Trumbull introduced resolutions calling upon the President for information in regard to appointments during recess of Congress.

The suffrage bill in the District of Columbia was then taken up. Mr. Brown took the floor in advocacy of the right of female suffrage.

HOUSE.—Unanimous consent was asked for the introduction of resolutions assigning to the loyal States the right to tax National Banks in lieu of State claims for war expenses, also calling for information as to the withdrawal of national currency, and declaring that the withdrawal of more than four millions, would not add to the general welfare, also that the constitutional amendment is the most conciliatory offer that the rebel States could expect, and that the theory of universal amnesty ought to be discarded by every loyal patriot. Objection being made none were introduced.

Special to the Baltimore Sun.

Southern Loyalists—Territorial Governments.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The "The "Southern Loyalists" met last evening, and had in consultation with them Messrs. Stevens, Sumner, et. al. of that ilk. The latter advise the "loyalists" to get up a petition of Southern loyalists to Congress, asking that the Southern States be treated as territories, provisional governors appointed, etc.

General Grant's report contains the comfortable assurance that the condition of the South, "on the whole," is good enough "to warrant the hope that but a short time will intervene before the bulk of the troops" now among us can be withdrawn.

MOBILE, December 7.—A special Times dispatch from Montgomery to-day says the Legislature rejected the constitutional amendment by a vote of 27 to 2 in the Senate, and 69 to 8 in the House.

DIED.

In Houston, Texas on the first day of December of Cholera, NANNIE, daughter of Col. John H. and Carolina Manly, aged eleven years, one month and ten days.

Very suddenly in Pittsboro on the 20th. Novembe MRS. TAMAR MANNING, wife of Capt. John Manningr formerly of the U. S. Navy.

MRS. MANING, possessed a fine intellect, a warm heart, remarkable grace and dignity of manners, combined with great modesty and meekness

As a mother she was affectionate and unselfish as a wife devoted and truly a "help meet." She leaves a husband with whom she had shared all "the changes and chances of this mortal life" for more than the third of a century—crushed by the heaviest blow that falls to the lot of man, the loss of a good wife—deprived by the late "civil war" of the luxuries and many of the comforts of life which she once so abundantly enjoyed, she adapted herself to her changed situation, with an energy and submissiveness that was truly admirable. She had learned to place her treasure not "in a house made with hands but one eternal in the Heavens."

She committed her "way unto the Lord" and put her trust in him, and in the end He verified his promise, in making her "rightousness as clear as the light."

As a devoted son, her only child, approached her bed side, being asked by an affectionate sister if she knew him, she replied "Oh! God bless you my child.'—said she was dying, "that it was so sweet to die" and with the pious exclamation, "Oh Lord my God help me through the valley of the shadow of death," she passed from death to life eternal.

In view of such a death, who is not ready to exclaim, "let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like" hers. J. H. H.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitiarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctor and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMITTER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
114 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now ured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals.

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude
J. MAGGIEL, M. D.

P. F. PESCUD AGENT FOR RALEIGH, FOR MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

General Agent,

For the State of North Carolina, Petersburg, Va., and surrounding Counties.

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.
